WREN HOP VINEYARDS 2011 PINOT NOIR 'WISDOM & CHAOS' RUSSIAN RIVER VALLEY, SONOMA

Wren Hop Vineyards is a limited production luxury winery located in the Russian River Valley specializing in vineyard specific Pinot Noir and Chardonnay created in an opulent, complex, muscular style. Organic farming practices, specific clonal selection, detailed sorting, extended cold soaks and a 100% new French Oak barrel program all play a role in these wines of power.

'Wisdom & Chaos' produced a rich, silky wine for 2011. Only the estate's Dijon Clones were selected for their core of deep red fruits. As the wine opens up it shows hints of black tea and spice. Texturally this wine is plush and seductive. Our northeast facing hillside vineyard location allowed us four extra weeks of hang time in this vintage. The wine boastfully reflects this extra power, dimension and depth. Aged in 100% new French oak.

TASTING NOTES: The 2011 Pinot Noir Wisdom & Chaos (from the Estate vineyard) is beautifully layered in the glass. Juicy dark raspberries, menthol, licorice and rose petals meld together effortlessly. The 2011 is racy, perfumed and voluptuous to the core, with tons of intensity and richness to burn.

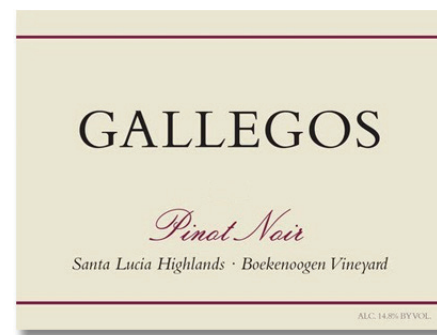

Clones: Dijon 115, 667, 777

Nestled atop the foothills in the heart of the Santa Lucia Highlands in Monterey County, California, lies family owned and operated Boekennoogen Vineyards and Winery. The combination of superior clones, rocky well-drained soils, meticulous viticulture practices, foggy mornings and sunny afternoons moderated by a cooling maritime breezes, has resulted in superior grapes.

TASTING NOTES: Our deep colored Pinot Noir opens up with aromas of strawberry, rhubarb pie, cranberry, and cherry. Rich and layered flavors of ripe red fruits are beautifully balanced with the fresh acidity. Velvety tannins deliver a lovely, full bodied wine with a smooth, silky finish. A Pinot Noir with well rounded red fruit, a soft entry, and smooth transitions through the sipping experience.
