REVANA ESTATE 2015 CABERNET SAUVIGNON TERROIR SERIES NAPA VALLEY

www.RevanaWine.com

The Revana Estate vineyard is located in St. Helena, an ideal spot for growing Cabernet Sauvignon. This northern part of Napa is a narrow stretch of the valley framed by the Mayacamas and Vaca mountains. The Revana Estate vineyard was planted by our vineyard manager, Jim Barbour in 1998. It is comprised of nine separate blocks totaling nine acres. The vineyard blocks have different soil characteristics and are planted with a carefully selected array of rootstocks matched to each block's soil type. To preserve the unique qualities of the blocks, they are farmed and vinified separately. A combination of close spacing, deep gravelly soils and exacting farming, guarantees low yields and rich, concentrated grapes.

TASTING NOTES: While intense in its structure and concentration, this full bodied wine deftly avoids any sense of heaviness. It's aromas leap from the glass with dark notes of blackberry cordial laced with swiss chocolate and vanilla. The rich, savory palate offers dusty blue fruit flavors with a touch bittersweet cocoa powder that lingers on sweet fine tannins throughout the clean finish. Crafted to be approachable upon release yet age-worthy in your cellar, this wine is best enjoyed now with light decanting until 2028.
